

Gallagher RedCrater Crisis Averter Integration

Lockdown and security incident software that secures people and buildings swiftly when under threat.

Secures people and buildings swiftly

Immediate and effective management of on site threats is essential for personnel safety and well being. Crisis Averter combined with Gallagher Command Centre enables staff to activate a security alert from either a traditional fixed panic button, Inovonics Wireless device or the computer-based Crisis Averter Client application.

Integration features

- Provides a discrete method to activate a security alert from a computer.
- Gives visibility of critical alarms on staff computers including designated Gallagher alarms.
- Full integration between Inovonics Wireless and Gallagher security.
- Trigger security actions such as locking doors and video recording in Gallagher Command Centre.
- Provides feedback to users that an alarm is being responded to.

Crisis Averter Alarm Monitor Use Cases

- A school is put into lockdown and teachers are discretely notified so they can begin emergency procedures.
- A staff member in an interview room presses a panic button and nearby staff members are alerted so they can provide de-escalation support.
- A staff member at a front desk is dealing with an agitated person and uses the Crisis Averter Client on their computer to trigger an alarm which is displayed on a nearby managers screen so they can provide assistance.
- A critical entry door is left open which is notified to a nearby staff member so they can re-secure the door.
- After hours employees are alerted to an intruder entering a secure area of the facility so they can undertake appropriate procedures.
