Gallagher PaperCut Integration

The Gallagher PaperCut integration allows documents to be printed securely, minimizes paper waste, and reduces print costs.

What is PaperCut?

Leading print management software, PaperCut, allows tracking and control of printers and print behaviour. PaperCut delivers cost saving and sustainable solutions to 50,000 customers worldwide. Documents are printed securely as the print device must be visited by user before printing begins. Paper waste is minimized, and print costs are reduced. See https://www.papercut.com/

How it works

The Papercut system queues print jobs, and when a user presents a Gallagher credential at a reader (located adjacent to a printer), Gallagher authenticates the user, and sends a message to Papercut, which then releases the print job.

Authenticated print

The Gallagher PaperCut integration allows cardholders to authenticate to print devices. Gallagher readers are installed on the printer and cardholders can use credentials issued via Gallagher Command Centre to authenticate to a printer. This includes traditional access cards, FOBs, and Mobile Connect credentials (Bluetooth®).

Secure TCP/IP

The Gallagher PaperCut integration usesTCP/IP communications between Gallagher Command Centre and the PaperCut server. This integration improves security by removing the use of the Wiegand or RS232 protocols traditionally used as printer interfaces.

Full authentication between the Gallagher reader, Gallagher server and the PaperCut server ensures information is accurate and removes potential network attack vectors.

Easy print management

The complexity of enrolling cardholders to print management systems is removed via an integration between PaperCut and Microsoft's Active Directory.

If a cardholder has multiple credentials, they will only need to enroll themselves with one credential at a PaperCut device, and the others will also begin working.

System requirements

The Gallagher PaperCut interface intergration requires Command Centre version 7.80 or later.
